CHAPTER II.

LEAGUES and leagues away from where the summer was come golden sandaled over Virginia, throbbing now with all the pent up intolerance of years of repression and smothered resentment, a ship which had been strained and pummeled by two months packed with tempest unfolded new canvas under the crumbling splendors of a clearing sky. The day drew breezily serene. The sea had tired itself out, and the sun burned pleasantly in the blue.

One of the few passengers whom the softening weather had drawn into the air—a young Frenchman, fair, slight, well knit and soberly garbed in gray—leaned upon the forward rail, with shoulders squared to the sunshine, and looked below him.

No man of the old world could have shown a more strangely assorted company than did the lower deck of the brigantine Two Sisters out of London, bound for Yokohama, Va. Swarming to the bulwarks was a motley herd of redemptors—a few young women of fair color, English country girls

GAINED

The story of a great deal of the unhappiness of women is a story of lost health. Women wonder how it is that little by little the form loses plumpness, the cheeks grow hollow and sallow, and they feel tired and worn-out all the time. In a large proportion of cases when women are weak, run-down and falling off in flesh and looks, the root of the trouble can be traced to womanly diseases which undermine the general health. The proof of this is that women who have been cured of painful womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have recovered their general health, gained in flesh and in appearance.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which sap the general health. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I suffered for three years with ovarian trouble," writes Mrs. Anna Quinn (Treasurer Woman's Athletic Club), of 502 Sycamore St., Milwaukee, Wis. "The treatment I took did not do me a particle of good, until a good neighbor who had been using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription advised me to give it a trial. The next day took my first dose, and it was my first step toward recovery. In nine weeks I was a different woman; my flesh which had been flabby became firm, complexion clear and my eyes bright. It was simply an indication of the great change within from pain and suffering to health and happiness."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

"You cannot see him, monsieur." The young man's tone was very firm. "Who are you?" "The marquis' secretary, monsieur." Jarrot took a gold crown from his pocket and offered it to the other with the easy effrontery of one perfectly certain of his ground. Every understanding, it was his belief, had his price, from lackeys to prime ministers. It is a theory which on the whole works not badly.

The man before him, however, was of another sort. He put the coin back. "You cannot see the marquis, monsieur," he repeated. "Cannot, you whelp?" said Jarrot, with his tongue on his lip and in the soft tone which with him covered a white boil of rage. A copper lantern, pierced with holes, threw yellow beams down the passage, and in this glare the young man on the threshold saw his face, evilly beautiful and distorted. The coin rattled on the floor.

The young Frenchman stooped to pick up a gold piece. "Monsieur has dropped his crown," he said, holding it out. Jarrot took it and thrust it into his pocket. "It was too small a douceur," he said easily, "oh, master secretary?" Most of those on the ship did not know, so insular were the prejudices of the Anglo-Saxon, that the Marquis de la Trouerie was a personage in his own country. Even Caron de Beaumarchais, son of a watchmaker, that airy, naive, fantastic charlatan who at the age of twenty-four had washed his hands at his father's shop, changed his clothes and gone to court to give the four daughters of Louis XV. lessons on the harp—even he was less welcome at the Tuilleries or less a favorite of the young Queen Marie Antoinette than this same nobleman now aboard the Two Sisters.

It is perhaps not to be wondered at that the passengers knew little of such things and doubtless for the most part knew less. Two Annapolis merchants, loyal since the nonimportation agreements had pinched their pockets; a brace of London factors looking for likely agencies; a Virginian fresh from study in the Middle Temple, bound for the woolstack at Lancaster; a British quartermaster journeying to Boston—what should such a company know of Gallie pedigrees or the chatter of the French court?

A diplomat might have found in the presence of the marquis something to ponder. For at that time strange things were stirring. Louis XVI., young, enthusiastic, unaccustomed, was learning for the first how exceeding difficult it is to be a king. M. Turgot, his grim old minister of finance, logical, pitiless, cold as a dog's nose, was pulling one way; Beaumarchais, brilliant as a chameleon, fascinating, egotist, intimate of a French queen, was pulling another.

And what was the bone of contention? Whether France should give her treasure to the secret aid of the American colonies. With such counsels in the air England slept, like a surly bull-dog, in her own island.

Now the creatures who had wallowed in sullen waiting or cried shrilly to their saints were still or babbling of other things. From the rigging a tarred mariner bawled his lay of "Bold Jack in the Ways," and the few passengers, who had weathered the storm grumbling or dicing below deck, were sunning themselves upon the poop.

The young Frenchman shifted his slow gaze from the redemptors and let it run far out over the water, watching the little spots of foam that marked the great waste. He was undeniably good looking, of an elusive, beardless charm, with a forehead grayed by his mouth. His hair was rich brown, long and curling, for he wore no wig, and his finely cut lips were set over a chin of bold delicacy. His eyes were full and hazel, his expression one of zest and eagerness.

On this day as he leaned against the rail a man was watching him intently from where he stood, farther back. The man's name was Jarrot, and he wore the uniform of a captain in his majesty's horse.

To relate that Captain Jarrot had carried his handsome face and dominating bearing aboard the ship on the day of sailing, with a letter from Lord Stormont, British ambassador in Paris, hidden in his breast pocket, is to go back a bit. Jarrot was close-mouthed. As far as the other passengers were concerned he was a British officer returning to the Virginias. To a nice eye he would have betrayed an overintimate curiosity as to a certain passenger.

The second day out he accosted the skipper, Master Jabez Elves, and wished him fair weather and a good day with an insinuating accent which betokened a bent for conversation. But Master Elves replied only with a nautical grunt.

Jarrot tried a direct inquiry. "Where is the Marquis de la Trouerie?"

"Sick," replied the skipper. "In his cabin," and rolled away.

"Ah!" smirked Jarrot. "Our French gentleman is a poor sailor."

But as the days went by it became certain that the distinguished passenger was ill of a less passing malady than mal de mer.

On an evening the captain pushed open a narrow cabin door at the end of a passage, but before he could enter a young man sprang up and barred the way.

"I would see the Marquis de la Trouerie," said Jarrot.

Port Arthur.*ACTION IS IMMINENT*A Swarm of Transports Escorted by

Port Arthur, April 18.—Rumors are current here that twenty Japanese transports conveying troops have been sighted steaming in the direction of Yin Kow. The rumors cannot be confirmed. The Russians impatiently await a Japanese landing.

London, Apr. 18.—Reports are again in circulation on Russia's need to raise money. When the war broke out the gold held abroad by the Bank of Russia amounted to $87,500,000. Of this amount $50,000,000 have been expended, and therefore, according to these reports, it would soon be necessary to have recourse to gold held in the treasury. According to a telegram from Brussels the outcome of the ways and means conference at St. Petersburg will be the issue of $200,000,000 in 5 per cent treasury bonds in Paris, Brussels and Amsterdam.

Vice Admiral Togo's report is accepted here as fully explaining the mystery of the destruction of the battleship Petropavlovsk and the newspapers pay warm tributes to the daring and skill displayed by the Japanese, contrasting them with the apparent lack of foresight and vigilance on the part of the Russians.

War correspondents arriving at Ping Yan report that the roads are in terrible condition, but that the Jap troops in marching display splendid endurance. One Pih Yang correspondent says that food supplies are being pushed forward on a gigantic scale. All preparations prove that the Japs are in readiness to sustain a campaign. The correspondent describes the irresistible courage shown by the Japanese in the fighting at Chong Ju, charging recklessly up hill in the face of superior numbers. He relates an incident showing the individual initiative of the Japanese soldiers. A private got isolated and saw the main body of the Russians making for the south gate of the town. He hid himself until the Russians approached and then deliberately shot the Russian commander, throwing the force into confusion.

A correspondent at Shan Hai Kwan gives a report that a Japanese fleet of twenty-six vessels has been seen escorting 100 transports north of Port Arthur.

Rumors emanate from various quarters that trouble is imminent between Russia and China, but there is no authentic news to this effect. Some St. Petersburg correspondents consider the sudden departure of the Chinese from Moscow to be significant. A Shanghai correspondent cables a report to the effect that the Russians are disarming all the Chinese troops in Manchuria east of the Liao river, including the Tartar viceroy's bodyguard.

Jarrot, like many another schemer, made the error of undervaluing the intellectuality of an opponent. He had small idea that the marquis' young secretary was observant in his turn. It was nevertheless the fact. But M. Armand, who had scented him very early, kept his cabin, and no one aboard—the ship carried no leech—saw his master.

Four days after the episode of the gold crown Jarrot tried the skipper again.

Master Elves chewed a bitter end and wore a habitual droop to his eye. Now the courtesy came as thickly as cold weather treacle.

"The Marquis de la Trouerie," he answered, "ain't on the ship."

Jarrot stepped back heavily. "Not on the ship, friend plague me! He is on the ship."

"Mayhap ye know better nor I," answered Master Elves shortly.

the boilers, which, moreover, are of the Belleville type, whereas the boilers of the Petropavlovsk were of Scotch make and were not protected by her bunkers."

One of the shrewdest naval attaches at St. Petersburg, however, says that he believes the Japanese laid the mines which were responsible for the disaster, pointing out that it was one of the oldest systems of blockading when ships did not dare to run the risk of entering under an enemy's guns. The attaché said he thought they would do this when he noticed that the Japanese fleet always made a wide detour of the entrance. It is also significant that Chinese junk have been reported as cruising off the harbor, and it is considered possible that the Japanese kept these junks there systematically in order to throw the Russians off their guard if they were seen when the actual time arrived to lay the mines.

Troops Ravaged by Disease.
St. Petersburg, April 18.—According to the reports of spies the Japanese troops in Korea have been ravaged by various diseases. One of these diseases, called "Imbion," is a kind of intermittent typhus. Another, called "souda," which has not yet been studied by European doctors, produces premature senility. The patients lose their teeth, become extremely weak, and the nails are twisted back on the fingers. Dysentery is very prevalent among the Russians at Harbin.

The Russian "Hoodo."
St. Petersburg, April 18.—A story is circulating among the entourage of the court that on hearing of the disaster to the Petropavlovsk the emperor wept and referring to Viceroy Alexieff, exclaimed: "That man brings us nothing but ill luck." It is also alleged that the emperor was with difficulty dissuaded from removing the viceroy from his post.

Situation Is Unchanged.
St. Petersburg, April 18.—Rumors were in circulation here Sunday of a fresh engagement on the Yalu river which had resulted favorably to the Russians, but a dispatch received by the general staff today says that the situation is unchanged and that all is quiet on the Yalu.

Not All Is Told.
Chee Foo, April 18.—A letter from Port Arthur dated April 8, which has been received here says: "I would like to tell you of the conditions existing here, but the censorship is too severe to allow me to do so."

Struck a Floating Mine.
St. Petersburg, April 18.—A dispatch from Port Arthur says several eyewitnesses assert that a Japanese cruiser was lost outside Port Arthur April 12 by striking one of its own floating mines.

All Quiet Since Bombardment.
Port Arthur, April 18.—Since the bombardment of Friday all has been quiet here. Viceroy Alexieff has hoisted his flag on the battleship Sevastopol.

Court of Inquiry to Probe the Missouri Disaster.

Washington, April 18.—The navy department has received a dispatch from Rear Admiral A. S. Barker, commanding the North Atlantic fleet, giving the personnel of the court of inquiry that is engaged in making an investigation of the cause of the recent accident on the Missouri. They are Rear Admiral Chadwick, president of the court; Capt. Joseph N. Hemphill, commanding the Kearsarge, and Commander William H. Sutherland, commanding the Cleveland, with Lieutenant Mark Bristol as judge advocate. It is expected that the court will complete its inquiry the present week, and on its findings will depend whether further proceedings are to be had.

Track Walkers Killed.
Allentown, Pa., April 18.—George Clauser, aged forty; Edith Metzler, aged fifteen, and Stella Knaus, aged seventeen, were struck and instantly killed by a Reading railroad passenger train near their home near Macungie late last night. The party had attended a church service in Macungie and were taking a short cut home by walking on the railroad track. The noise of a passing freight train prevented them hearing the approaching passenger train.

BRIEF DISPATCHES

Mrs. Martha Applegate, the oldest person in Eastern Ohio, is dead near McConnellsville, O., aged 102.

The annual convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution is in progress at Washington.

The Occidental hotel, at Indianapolis, was gutted by fire, entailing a loss of $30,000. All guests escaped safely.

William Bothwell, "Young Corbett," the pugilist, has sailed for Europe. He will remain abroad three months.

Bob Fitzsimmons and Kid McCoy are practically matched to meet in a six-round battle in Philadelphia within five weeks.

The Japanese are elated over the successes they have won at Port Arthur. They are also proud of the achievement of Vice Admiral Togo.

Daring a fire in St. Vincent's hospital at Indianapolis, Harriet Lealey, an aged employee, leaped from a fifth story window and was instantly killed.

Emperor William is credited with having indicated that he would be ready to meet President Loubet should occasion arise before the end of the Mediterranean cruise.

The Italian government considers as groundless the plot alleged to have been hatched at Marseille to kill President Loubet during his coming visit to Italy.

Admiral Togo's official report settles the question as to how the battleship Petropavlovsk was destroyed. He says it was blown up by a mine laid by the Japanese.

The coroner's jury at Pittsburgh has held the state mine inspector and the superintendent of the mine responsible for the Harwick disaster in which 173 lives were lost last January.

Promise to Mix It In Albany, N. Y., April 18.—If the policy adopted by the friends of Alton B. Parker, at whose head stands former United States Senator David B. Hill, is carried out at the sessions of the Democratic state convention today, there is likely to be precipitated upon the floor of the convention a battle royal which has not had a parallel in state political conventions for many years.

Since the Saratoga convention of 1900, when General Charles N. Bulger of Oswego, representing Senator Hill, putting his finger almost under the nose of Richard Croker, denounced Tammany Hall and its politics, Tammany has waited as an organization to present its compliments to Mr. Hill, and although it is perfectly apparent today that the interests dominated by Mr. Hill control a large majority of the convention's vote, it is a foregone conclusion that such orators as Bourke Cockran, Thomas F. Grady, Charles A. Towne and Victor Dowling will on the Bourke Cockran of New York as Tammany Mr. Hill of attempting to wreck the party. These are not statements of mere supposition, for although Leader Charles F. Murphy of Tammany Hall will not say a word, and although former Senator Hill is equally reticent, those who are extremely close to them are making definitely these assertions:

First—On behalf of Mr. Hill, that unless Tammany withdraws what he calls a useless opposition to the instruction of the state delegation for Judge Parker, Tammany Hall will be practically read out of the convention, delegations in its favor outside of Manhattan refused a seat in the convention and Tammany as a body not allowed to name a national delegate at large.

Second—On behalf of Mr. Murphy, as representing Tammany Hall, that New York has met defeat in national conventions only when it has instructed its delegation; that because of this fact that the party platform and policy are as yet vaguely defined, it is unwise to send an instructed delegation; that Tammany, casting the greatest proportion of the Democratic vote in the state, is entitled to name a delegate at large; that a Democratic state committee should not be elected at this convention, but the matter should wait until the fall convention, when state issues are dominant.

Mr. Murphy for nearly an hour was in conference with Senator Hill. He presented to Mr. Hill the name of W. Bourke Cockran of New York as Tammany's candidate for delegate at large. It is understood that Mr. Hill immediately asked him to name his candidate for president of the United States, a request that Mr. Murphy parried by saying that Tammany had no candidate, but firmly believed and would reiterate its belief in the convention today and at the national convention at St. Louis, that it should not be compelled to name its candidate or be instructed for any particular candidate until the platform was agreed upon and a proper man found who would be in accord with its issues.

To this Senator Hill replied that it must be perfectly apparent to Mr. Murphy that almost two-thirds of the delegates to today's convention are in favor of instructing for Judge Parker and that Tammany should therefore gracefully accede to the majority demand. If it did not, Mr. Hill is quoted as saying, then Tammany must take the consequences of its opposition because the delegates at large must not include any man who might on the floor of the national convention repudiate the unit rule as adopted for instruction by the state convention.

When Mr. Murphy left Senator Hill's headquarters he was asked whether he would make a statement. This he positively declined to do. Senator Hill when seen said that so far as he understood the matter Tammany was prepared to take the fight to the floor of the convention. He saw no objection to that and believed that was the place to fight it out.

A STRENUOUS CAMPAIGNRepublican Candidates Beginning to Sigh for the Comforts of Home.

Indianapolis, April 18.—The candidates for places on the Republican state ticket are beginning to look very tired. Most of them have been in the campaign actively for several months and the pace is strenuous. Frank Smith of Brookville, candidate for reporter of the supreme and appellate courts said today that he had not seen his family for nearly six weeks. When he started on his last swing around the state he closed his home till after the convention. L. P. Newby said that he had not been home for a month. J. Frank Hanly of Lafayette, who has been traveling over the state continually for several months, has been home but few times. He had a reunion with his family here yesterday, but will not go home till after the convention. The other candidates are reporting similar experiences, and some of them are beginning to wonder if the prizes sought are worth the necessary labor. This is the nervous period, for within ten days the result of their labor will be known.

L. P. Newby of Knightstown, candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, told a good story on himself today. Recently a newspaper friendly to him asked for a good picture from which a cut could be made. Newby wrote to a firm looking after such matters for him here, instructing them to send a cut to the paper. A few days later he received a copy of the paper containing the picture of a very large, fine-looking man on the front page. Below the picture was his own name. Newby did not make an investigation, but within a week the original of the cut was returned to him and he saw that his representatives here had sent the picture of another man. Newby said laughingly today that he had the benefit of being advertised as a much handsomer man than he dared to think he is. Newby and the other candidates for lieutenant governor will open headquarters here this week.

Jerry Matthews, private secretary to Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, was here today mingling with the politicians. He says that Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge will leave Washington for Indianapolis the latter part of this week. He believes that a majority of the members of the Indiana delegation will be able to come to the convention regardless of the reports that they can't get away from congress at this time. Matthews declares that great interest is felt at Washington in the forthcoming keynote speech of Congressman James E. Watson of Rushville, who will be permanent chairman of the convention.

John McCord of New Richmond, who arrived here today to help manage J. Frank Hanly's campaign for the remainder of the week, is one of the prominent grain dealers of the state, and he naturally keeps a close watch on crop conditions. He said today that the wheat crop has been practically ruined in Indiana and that the yield will be very poor. He anticipates, however, that there will be a larger crop of corn and oats than before if the weather conditions permit, for many farmers are now plowing up their wheat to plant corn and oats.

BEAUTY DEPENDS
ON GOOD BLOOD*Bad Complexions Due to Catarrh and Catarrh Can Be Cured Only By Rexall Mucu-Tone—Cosmetics Prove Worthless

Thousands of women are using toilet preparations unsuccessfully.

Cosmetics fail to improve their thick, muddy complexions or to banish the pimples, blackheads and crow's-feet.

No wonder. Their trouble lies far deeper than the skin. They have bad blood, and bad blood in 90 per cent. of the cases arises from inflammation of the mucous membranes. Their blood is filled with poison which is certain to break out in unsightly humors and blotches, while pale, drawn faces, deep circled eyes, stooping shoulders and weak backs complete the story of suffering and despair.

Inflammation of the mucous membrane is catarrh. Banish catarrh and complexion will clear as if by magic, pain vanish, eyes will brighten, faces become plump and shoulders erect. Perfect beauty goes only with perfect health, and perfect health for women can only be obtained through Rexall Mucu-Tone, the one positive and permanent cure for catarrh.

Mme. Swift, the most famous beauty specialist in the world and an accepted authority on all relating thereto, has this to say of Mucu-Tone:

"I can strongly endorse the claims made for Rexall Mucu-Tone as a cure for systemic catarrh. Its tonic effects are remarkable. It builds up the strength and restores the vitality. If women who are tired and run down, lacking in energy and strength, will use Mucu-Tone, they will praise it as I do for its strengthening and healing qualities."

44 W. 26th St., New York City.

Rexall Mucu-Tone works through the blood, and acting directly upon the mucous cells—the congestion and inflammation of which are the sole cause of catarrh—causes them to expel the poison and to resume their natural functions. Thus the membranes are cleansed—the blood purified and revitalized.

We know that Rexall Mucu-Tone will cure every form of catarrh, no matter where located, of how long standing, or by what other names it is known. We guarantee to refund your money if you are not satisfied with the vigorous health and clear complexion it brings you.

THE republican candidates for council in every ward should be elected by large majorities. They should be elected because they will attend to the public business properly. To such men the affairs of the people can always be safely entrusted.

IN New York today there will be a clash between David B. Hill and the Tammany leaders. Hill thinks he has the battle won, but he may be mistaken. Hill is trying to fix the delegates for Judge Parker, but Tammany objects to be bound up to Parker by Hill.

SEYMOUR never had a better city clerk than Fred Everback will make. He is fitted in every way for the duties of the office and will make an accommodating and pains-taking official. It is a pleasure to work and vote for such a candidate.

H. C. DANNETTELL, the republican candidate for city judge, will fill that office in a manner that will bring credit to the city. He has had experience as a justice of the peace and knows all the requirements of this office and will make a first class city judge.

WHEN it comes to electing a city treasurer the voters of Seymour will return Thos. J. Clark to that important position. They know he is absolutely all right. He is an officer in whom every one has full confidence. The people know him and believe in him.

J. H. HOPEWELL knows all the duties that fall to the city marshal for he served on the city police force seven or eight years and in that time often substituted for the city marshal. That he will make a competent and acceptable official every one knows. Give him your earnest support.

EVERY man on the republican city ticket is a good citizen and will do his full duty as a public official. Such men as compose this ticket are the kind of men to elect to public office for they will at all times look to the welfare of the city and taxpayers. With such men in charge public contracts will not be allowed to the highest bidder nor will illegal allowances of any sort be appropriated out of the city treasury.

EVERY man who knows Dr. Graessle, and practically every voter in the city knows him personally, knows that he will make Seymour a capital mayor. He is one of our leading citizens, a man of excellent ability, public spirited and loyal to the interests of Seymour and her people, a man in whom everybody has the fullest confidence. Dr. Graessle is just the kind of a man that Seymour should have for mayor. Any one can take pride in supporting such a capable man and so excellent a citizen.

At all the Seymour churches the Sunday evening services were largely attended yesterday and good sermons were preached at each place. Seymour has some strong preachers and it is always a pleasure to hear them.

Political Gossip.
Hon. O. H. Montgomery, of Seymour, has announced his candidacy for a place on the supreme court bench. He is a young man of excellent character and of a fine judicial mind. He ranks among the foremost of Indiana lawyers and would make a just and upright judge. He has served as a member of the Republican State Committee with credit. Governor Mount recognized his ability and appointed him a member of the state commission on uniform laws along with such judges as Robert S. Taylor, George L. Reinhard, Ex-Attorney General W. A. Ketcham and S. O. Pickens.—Noblesville Ledger.

The republicans of Columbus have nominated Henry W. Cook for mayor and the democrats have nominated P. H. McCormack.

The republican state committee announces that the railroads have granted a rate of one fare plus twenty-five cents for the round trip to the republican state convention. This will help to increase the crowd at the convention which promises to be unusually large.

Investment, Not Expense.
Advertising is an investment. Like an investment in bonds or stocks or anything else, it is expected to bring in returns; but, like them and all other investments, it is accompanied with some risks. The risk is mostly a matter of judgment in matter, method and medium. Too many advertisers figure advertising as expense, however, and are more interested in getting it down as close as possible than in figuring it as investment and trying to see how much they can get out of it. The advertiser who is anxious to see how much space he can get for a little is pretty sure to neglect the more important matter of putting the proper things into that space to make it profitable. Not that advertising should not be bought as economically as possible—space should be bought as carefully as anything else—but, unlike merchandise, which, being well bought, is half sold, advertising space may be bought ever so cheap and yet be next to worthless because its true value is not made use of.—Sacramento (Cal.) Bee.

DIED.
ABLE.—The infant son of Marion Able and wife died at the family home in Woodstock Sunday afternoon. Funeral Monday at 2 p. m. Burial in city cemetery.

WALLACE.—John M. Wallace, one of the best known residents of Columbus and Bartholomew county, died Saturday night, aged 76 years. He was county superintendent of Bartholomew county several terms some years ago.

Mrs. Dwinell was a sister of Mrs. Fred Rust and Mrs. Dr. Charles Patrick, and made her home with the latter for a number of years in this city. She had many friends here. Interment in Jeffersonville last Thursday.

BAUERMEISTER.—Mrs. Sophia Bauermeister died Monday morning, April 18, 1904, at 2:30 at the residence of her son, William Bauermeister, on South Poplar street, of chronic stomach trouble, after an illness of one year and four months. Mrs. Sophia Spiehl Bauermeister was born in the kingdom of Wurtemberg, Germany, on May 5, 1825, and emigrated as a small child to America. On October 18, 1841, she was united in marriage to Rev. William Bauermeister at Allegheny, Pa., with whom she lived for fifty years in happy marriage. To them were born twelve children, of whom seven are living: John, William and Mrs. G. Taskey, of this city; Mrs. F. Pickhardt, of Evansville; Mrs. P. Zimmer, of Weisburg, Otto, of Stendal and Mrs. J. M. Killian, of Rockport. She is well known to a great many of the older German citizens of Jackson county, as her husband was pastor of the Lutheran church at Dudleytown from 1863 to 1867.

There will be a short service held by Rev. Philip Schmidt this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence and the remains will be taken Tuesday morning to Stendal where they will be interred by the side of her husband on Wednesday, April 20.

Alleged Thief Caught.

They stopped at the Arlington and during the night Murphy got up, took Powell's gold watch, a gold ring and $6 in cash and left. The officers were notified and Marshal Prewitt sent out notices of the theft. Word came from Brownstown Sunday that Murphy was arrested there and that he had the watch and ring. Powell, who had gone back home, was notified and was expected today to identify the property. Since his arrest Murphy denies ever having been in Seymour and claims to a painter from Louisville.

Valuable Asset
The Halo Created by Newspaper Advertising

One of the most popular and sought after members of the Citizens' Industrial association was C. W. Post of Battle Creek, the manufacturer of several well known breakfast and predigested foods. He is a firm believer in the necessity of newspaper advertising and declares that last year he spent over $2,000,000 in this way.

To a number of friends at the Claypool hotel he said that to sell any article a "halo" must be constructed about it with the help of the newspapers.

"A halo is a manufactured article largely produced by newspapers. It is worn by men and women and is used also to decorate some articles of commerce. It is constructed of an intangible sort of substance, and its lines are not always clearly defined.

"The art of making halos is not always clearly understood by merchants. Suppose a merchant has a large stock of cloaks. If he is an expert in the manufacturing of halos to decorate these cloaks he is very sure to create a demand and make money by doing so.

"It is distinctly the business of the newspaper to make halos," Mr. Post declared. "Seldom, if ever, does a good advertiser fail. Good advertising is nothing more or less than the talk of a first class salesman, not to one individual, but to each individual of a mass.

"One kind of salesman takes his time to carefully detail the merits of the goods he has to sell and makes his talk verbally to one customer, while the same amount of energy, thought, salesman ability and convincing argument would win perhaps 1,000 people if told through the columns of a newspaper, and in the telling one begins the construction of a halo, which will in time be completed if the work is continued day by day with undagging interest.

"Newspapers can build a halo for any reputable or worthy merchant, and when finally built and placed in position the merchant will find it the most valuable asset he has."—Indianapolis Star.

An Animal Story For Little Folks
Why the Adjutant Kneels

"Please tell me, Mr. Adjutant, why do you kneel that way? I never see you standing up. You kneel the livelong day."

"Do you belong to any church? That you should kneel so much? Maybe you're lame or out of joint. If so, go buy a crutch."

"WHY DO YOU KNEEL THAT WAY?"
"Why do your legs bend back like that? Can't you walk like a crane? Does standing with you not agree? Or does it give you pain?"

"Now, see here," said the Adjutant, "You bother me you do. I sit and walk whenever I please. But what is that to you?"

"These legs of mine are handy quite. And they are bent this way because, you know, I've always been a sort of bird of prey."

—Atlanta Constitution.

A "Nervy" Dog.
The engineer and fireman of a Katy passenger train told a rather good dog story. They were speeding along near Green Ridge, in Pettis county, the other day, when they struck a shepherd dog. They supposed they had killed him and thought nothing more of the incident, they say, until they reached Green Ridge. There the dog, which had been thrown upon the cowcatcher, was seen to jump down and trot away, carrying one of his legs in his mouth.—Kansas City Journal.

Waiting For the Word.
The engineering proposition all resolves itself into this: People in your community are thinking about your goods this very minute. They need them and will buy tomorrow. You need not attempt to rouse their interest by bizarre methods, for they are interested already. What the public wants of you is a clear statement of what you have to offer. That statement may be long or short. If nothing more than a price, it helps in making decisions. Simply say what there is to say in your favor. Say it briefly if possible. Say no more. Say it through the newspapers if you can.—Printers' Ink.

EULOGY OF HANNA

Indiana's Distinguished Senators Pay Eloquent Tribute.

DEAD LEADER OF REPUBLICANISM

Senator Beveridge Said of Him That He Was a Doer of Real Things Whose Work Will Long Linger After Him—Senator Fairbanks Pays the Tribute of Affectionate Personal Friendship.

Two of the strongest speeches made during the memorial exercises recently held in the senate in honor of the late Senator Hanna were those delivered by Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge, of this state. Of Senator Beveridge's effort on this occasion a Washington correspondent says: "Senator Beveridge's eulogy on Senator Hanna was the finest oration of the kind heard in the senate chamber for many years. Senator Teller complimented Senator Beveridge in person, and said that during twenty-seven years' observation in the senate he had never known anything so well delivered. The junior Indiana Senator spoke without manuscript, in a well modulated voice, and in a way that thoroughly impressed and thrilled his auditors. He was the recipient of many congratulations from correspondents and men in public life."

Senator Beveridge said: "Mr. President, since to all earthly work an end must come, our words of farewell to a fellow-workman should not alone be those of grief that man's common lot has come to him; but of pride and joy that his task has been done worthily. Powerful men so weave themselves into their hour that, for the moment, it all but seems the world will stop when they depart. Yet, it does not stop or even pause. Undisturbed Time still wings his endless and unwearying flight; and the progress of the race goes on and up toward the light realizing at every step, more and more of the true, the beautiful and the good."

"So it is not important that any of us should long remain; the Master Builder lacks not craftsmen to take our place. But it is important to the utmost that while we are here, we should do our duty to the full perfection of our powers, fearlessly and faithfully, with clean hands, and hearts ever full of kindness, forbearance and charity."

"These are the outline thoughts that the absence of our friend compels. With his whole strength he did his work from boyhood to the place of rest. He was no miser of his life—he poured it into discharge of duty, keeping with nature no account of heart beats."

A Doer of Real Things.
"The things he did were real things. He was the very spirit of the practical. Yet the practical did not kill or even impair the human in him. He never lost the gift of loveliness. His sense of human touch and fellowship was not dulled, but made more delicate by time and the world. The years made him wiser, but they made him meliower, too."

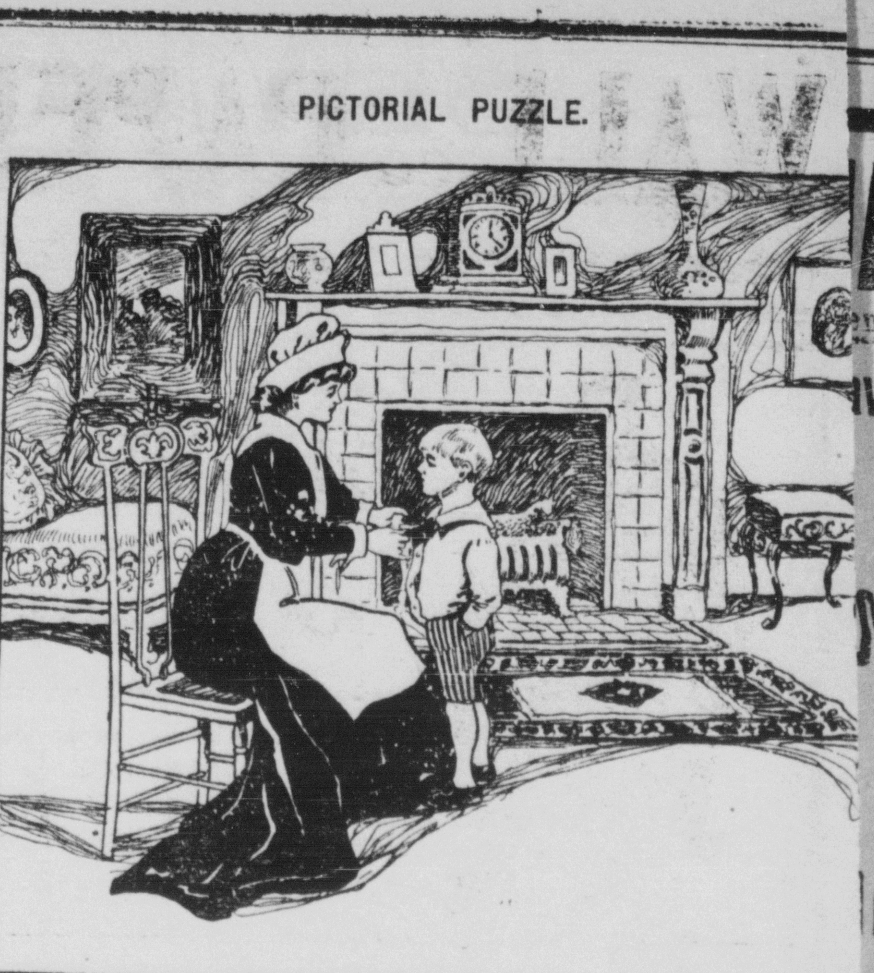

"And so he won the people's affection as well as their applause. And affection is worth more than applause. There is no greater glory than this—to make a nation your friend. Senator Hanna did that. For, when the angel of peace, which men call Death, took our brother to his well-earned rest, the people knew that a friend had left them. And the people were sad that he had gone away."

"This human quality in him made all he did a living thing, all he said a living word. He was the man of affairs in statesmanship; yet his personality gave to propositions of mere national business something of the warmth and vitality of principles. He was the personification of our commercial age—the age of building, planting, reaping, of ships on ocean and on land steel highways and the rolling wheels of trade; of that movement of the times which knits together with something more than verbal ties all the children of men, weaves tangible civilization around the globe and will, in time, make of all peoples neighbors, brothers, friends."

"Thus he was, unwittingly, no doubt, one of the agents of God's great purpose of the unification of the race. We are all such agents, small or great. If this is not so—if we are not, ignorantly perishing and blindly still surely, spinning our lives into the Master's design, whose pattern He alone can comprehend—if we and all things are not working together for good—if life is but a breath exhaled and then forever lost, our work means less and is worth less than that of coral insects, which, from the depths, build ever toward the light until islands stand above the waves, permanent monuments of an intelligent architecture."

What His Conservatism Meant.
"Work with real things—real earth, real ocean, real mountains, real men—made him conservative. And his conservatism was real. Much that is accepted as conservatism is spurious, mere make-believe. Conservatism does not mean doubt or indecision. It does not mean wise looks, masking vacuity nor pompous phrase, as meaningless as it is solemn. Conservatism means clear common sense, which equally rejects the fanaticism of prece-dent and the fanaticism of change. It would not have midnight last just because it exists; and yet it knows that dawn comes not in a flash, but gradually—comes with a grand and beautiful moderation. So the conservative is the real statesman. He brings things to pass in a way that lasts and does good. Senator Hanna was a conservative."

"Working with real things among real men also kept fresh his faith and Walked Out of Jail.

Greensburg, Ind., April 18.—Ernest Hidy, a Brown county youth confined in the county jail under a reformatory sentence for forgery, has escaped. When supper was taken to the prisoners Hidy, who was standing near the door, pulled the door shut as the girl passed out. She supposed the door had been closed and locked and went on to the kitchen. Hidy went to his cell, packed up his clothes and walked out.

The prince, who is to represent the Chinese government at the St. Louis fair, is accompanied by a large retinue. Graft is an "Independent."
(Lincoln Steffens in April McClure.)
There is nothing partisan about graft. Only the people are loyal to party. The "hated" trusts, all big grafters, go with the majority. In Democratic Missouri, the Democracy is the party of "capital." The Democratic political leaders, crying down the trusts, corner the voters like wheat, form a political trust, and sell out the sovereignty of the people to the corporation lobby. And the lobby runs the state, not only in the interest of the principals, but against the interest of the people. Once, when an election bill was up—the bill to turn over the cities to the Democrats—citizens of Kansas City, Democrats among them, had to hire a lobbyist to fight it, and when this lobbyist found that the interest of his corporations required the passage of the bill, he sent back his fee with an explanation. And this story was told me as an example of the honesty of that lobbyist!

A Deserved Endorsement.
Judge Crumpacker's renomination for congress by acclamation by the Republicans of the Tenth district is an honor any man could not fail to appreciate. The action of the convention is in perfect harmony with the wishes of the people of the district for whose interests Mr. Crumpacker has labored faithfully, intelligently and to good purpose. His election is, of course, assured beyond peradventure, and his continued services in congress, as heretofore, will be marked by constantly increasing usefulness. In honoring Judge Crumpacker the district also does great honor to itself.—Lafayette Courier.

RUN DOWN, TIRED.

Nine-Tenths of the Seymour People are in this Condition.

W. F. Peter Drug Co. Say "Vinol is What Every Man, Woman and Child Needs at this Season of the Year."

Many people right in this vicinity are all run down, no strength, hardly able to drag about. Don't know what ails them.

In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred it is simply a run-down condition of the system—in other words, general debility.

Our Vinol is the one great tonic re-constructive which they need. It will create strength, tone up the digestive organs, cure all stomach troubles, create a healthy appetite, make rich, red blood and strengthen every organ in the body to do its work. It will drive away every feeling of lassitude, heaviness and depression, and infuse new life and energy.

Vinol is not a patent medicine, contains no injurious drugs, but it is the most delicious and valuable preparation of cod liver oil known to medicine, without a drop of oil to retard its work.

Mr. Andrew Jackson, of Springfield, O., writes: "Every spring for years I have found myself in a worn-out, run-down condition, with no appetite, and before commencing the use of Vinol was practically a dead man on my feet. I tried this wonderful remedy, and am satisfied that it has done for me what doctors have failed to do in all these years. I am well and strong, and my entire system is full of vitality. As a tonic for a run-down, tired, debilitated system Vinol stands at the head."

We wish every man, woman and child in Seymour who is in this condition would try Vinol and prove what it will do. W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Prof. F. N. Johnson

ECZEMA SETS THE SKIN ON FIRE

No disease causes so much bodily discomfort, or itches, and burns like Eczema. Beginning often with a slight redness of the skin it gradually spreads, followed by pustules or blisters from which a gummy, sticky fluid oozes which dries and scales off or forms bad looking sores and scabs. It appears on different parts of the body but oftenest upon the back, arms, hands, legs and face, and is a veritable torment at times, especially at night or when over-heated.

In 1896 I experienced at times patches on the inside of my hands that itched and burned, causing much discomfort. As time went by it grew worse, and I was convinced that I was afflicted with Eczema. I consulted several physicians and a number of specialists, and used several external applications, receiving but slight temporary relief. In February I decided to try S. S. S., and in less than a month I experienced a change for the better, and by May all symptoms had disappeared, and I found myself entirely cured, and have had no return of the disease since. W. P. BRUSH, Manager Stockman's Advertising Agency, Station A, Kansas City, Mo.

While external applications, such as cooling, soaps, salves and powders are soothing and cool the skin, but do not enter into the blood itself or touch the real cause of the disease, but S. S. S. does, and purifies, enriches, and strengthens the thin acid blood and cleanses and builds up the general system, when the skin clears off and Eczema with all its terrifying symptoms disappears. Send for our free book on the Skin and its diseases. No charge for medical advice.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS

Affairs Shaping Up for an Early Adjournment.

Washington, April 18.—Statehood and ship subsidy will be the features of the house proceedings this week, with conference reports and minor bills to fill in the gaps. It is now the intention to dispose of the statehood bill entirely on Tuesday. The rule making a special order for the Gardner bill, providing for a joint commission of members of the house and senate to investigate the whole question of ship subsidy during the recess of congress, will be brought forward by Mr. Grosvenor on Wednesday. The Alaska delegate bill will remain the "continuing order" and receive consideration whenever there is nothing else before the house. The present plan of the leaders contemplates final adjournment April 28.

There will be an effort to keep appropriation bills to the front all the time during the present week in the senate, and to this end the sundry civil bill was taken up on convening today. When it is disposed of the pension appropriation bill will be pressed and it is hoped that that bill will in turn be immediately followed by the general deficiency bill. The senate leaders are apprehensive of the effect of consideration of various bills on the calendar and are exercising their ingenuity to keep them in the background.

The Gas Was Escaping.

Chicago, April 18.—James H. Johnson, a railroad switchman, and Mrs. Mary McGrath, said to have come to Chicago recently from St. Louis, were found dead in bed Sunday in a cheap hotel in Archer avenue. The couple registered at the hotel Saturday as man and wife and were assigned to a room. Escaping gas in their room started an investigation yesterday, and when the door was forced open both bodies were found lying side by side on the bed. Gas was escaping from a jet in the room, but whether the couple committed suicide or accidentally left the gas turned on, is not known.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

Smith, former journal clerk of the house of representatives and a recognized authority on parliamentary practice, died in Savannah, Ga., Sunday, where he had gone two weeks ago for medical treatment. The body will be brought to Washington for interment. He leaves a wife and son. By reason of his long connection with congress few persons enjoyed a wider acquaintance with public men than Mr. Smith.

Will Go Uninstructed.
Harrisburg, Pa., April 18.—The Democratic state convention for the nomination of the supreme court justice and two presidential electors at large and the election of four delegates at large and four alternates to the national convention will be held tomorrow. The indications are that the national delegates will be uninstructed and that they will be bound by the unit rule.

Police and Jackies Mix.
Pensacola, Fla., April 18.—In a riot here Saturday night between police and bluejackets from the warships and a few artillerymen from Fort Barrancas, one enlisted man named Banks, of the Seventh artillery, was instantly killed and four bluejackets from the Iowa and Alabama were wounded, though not seriously.

More Excitement at Barcelona.
Barcelona, April 18.—A bomb exploded at 8 o'clock last evening in the Plaza del Toros. The result was harmless, but the explosion created a panic owing to the fact that King Alfonso and Premier Maura are still here.

Head Severed From the Body.
Lawrenceburg, Ind., April 18.—A man, who has not yet been identified, was killed by a cut of freight cars in the Big Four yards. He was last seen walking up the track away from the approaching train, and it is supposed that he did not hear it coming. A corner of a box-car struck him and he fell across the rails. His head was severed from his body and crushed between the cars on his head.

Ancient Sepulcher Unearthed.
Lawrenceburg, Ind., April 18.—On the farm of Solon Early, a prehistoric vault was discovered. The vault was of stone and was well preserved. It was opened and contained the remains of an Indian, evidently a chief, judging from the beads and great variety of stone implements found in the sepulcher.

POPULAR SERVICE

Many Applicants Take the Examination For Civil Positions.

SOME LARGE CLASSES

Indianapolis Has Become a Great Center for Civil Service Examinations of Late.

Largest Class That Ever Took the Examination Was Gathered There Recently.

Indianapolis, April 18.—Indianapolis has become the greatest center for civil service examinations in the United States. Classes taking the examinations in this city are always larger than those taking them in any other city in the country. The recent examination given stenographers was taken by fifty-two applicants here, while in Cincinnati, Chicago and many other of the larger cities the number was very small as compared with those who took the examination here. This was the largest class that ever took the examination in the history of the civil service.

TWO SERIOUS FIRES

Indianapolis Has Hotel and Hospital Blaze at Same Time.

Indianapolis, April 18.—Early Sunday morning fire broke out in St. Vincent's hospital and the building was partly destroyed. In the excitement attending the fire and confused by the smoke which filled the building, Harriet Leahy, an aged nurse of the hospital, leaped from a window on the fifth floor and was instantly killed. There were about 250 people in the hospital, many bed-ridden patients being gotten out with difficulty, and it is thought other deaths will follow as a result of exposure and nervous shock to some of the more debilitated patients. The monetary loss will not exceed $2,000, as the fire was confined to the basement. It was the dense smoke which filled the entire building which caused a panic which might have been far more serious but for the self-possession of the physicians and nurses.

At the same hour fire practically gutted the Occidental hotel, corner of Washington and Illinois streets, entailing a loss of near $50,000. Fortunately there was no loss of life, the guests escaping safely, though most of them lost all their belongings save the scanty attire in which they made their escape. The fire was one of the most spectacular that has visited the city for some time, and there were many thrilling escapes.

Little Girl Burns to Death.

New Castle, Ind., April 18.—The house occupied by Leroy Murphy in Greensboro burned. Almost the entire house was in flames and the roof was falling in when the family awakened. The father, mother and a baby less than a week old and a daughter six years old escaped, but a child twelve years old was burned, and the charred remains were found in the ruins. The child was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bundy of Kennard, who was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Murphy.

Deadly Flying Switch.

Frankfort, Ind., April 18.—Columbus Stout, aged forty-five years, of Sheridan, was killed here by a Vandallia freight train. His body was mutilated almost beyond recognition. He stepped from the main track to get out of the way of an engine and stepped onto a siding, where he stood and looked at the engine pass and did not see a cut of cars which the engine sent into the sidetrack in a flying switch. The cars ran him down, severing one limb and crushing his head.

Head Severed From the Body.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., April 18.—A man, who has not yet been identified, was killed by a cut of freight cars in the Big Four yards. He was last seen walking up the track away from the approaching train, and it is supposed that he did not hear it coming. A corner of a box-car struck him and he fell across the rails. His head was severed from his body and crushed between the cars on his head.

Between Columbus and Cambridge City. Head down. Head up.
